5. The Agenda items of:

CONSIDERATIONS USED BY OTHER COUNTIES;

DECISION MAKING EVALUATION CRITERIA;

COMMENTS FROM THE COUNTY BOARD PRESENTATION;

COUNTY BOARD SELF-ASSESSMENT;

These items were all discussed during the overall conversation of the meeting and no one individual item was discussed with the intent to take action on them separately. Consensus was reached on how to proceed with items at the next meeting.

The overall discussion was as follows:

Robinson and McEwen gave additional information to the members regarding the comparisons between counties that have recently changed their Board sizes. They discussed issues from counties the members asked to see more information on.

Chippewa County went from 30 to 15 members. They cited burn out on the committees as the reason to change. They have only 4 women on the Board but are experiencing quorum issues for the committees. They now think they are too small of a Board.

Wood County went from 29 to 15 members and went from a per diem system to salaries for members. They also only have 2 women on the Board and feel they have the right size.

Fond du Lac County has 25 members, 19 men, 6 women and are experiencing operation issues on the Board but feel it's the right size.

St Croix County went from 31 to 19 members based on a citizen's referendum.

MARATHON COUNTY BOARD SIZE TASK FORCE

June 17, 2020

Further discuss about the geographic size of districts, the size of committees, the reasons for most Counties reducing their sizes, and the overall committee structure in the counties not just the standing committees that creates the problems.

The conversation then moved to the criteria needed to help members make a decision on the Board size. The questions asked were “what is the problem that needs fixing?”, “Why consider a change?”, and “What makes the board provide better delivery of services?”

For the evaluation criteria, qualitative questions should be asked not quantitative. Create a weighted scoring system using high, medium, and low for each measure and bring back next meeting.

Hager explained the survey mechanism for the Board self-assessment that will be given to the Executive Committee where themes will be identified and used to survey the full board.

Members agreed to discuss the evaluation criteria, other county considerations, the Board self-assessment, costs and compensation, and a public engagement process at the September 16th Task Force meeting.

6. Future Meetings and Schedule – September 16, 2020 and September 30, 2020

Action: THE NEXT MEETINGS WILL BE SCHEDULED FOR SEPTEMBER 16, 2020 AS WELL AS SEPTEMBER 30, 2020 BOTH AT 3:30 PM AT 210 RIVER DRIVE, WAUSAU, WI AND VIA WEBEX.

County Board Size in Wisconsin

Wisconsin's History of Big Boards

- New York v. Pennsylvania models

At the basic level, there are two models of county board. Wisconsin has adopted the New York model, made up of larger citizen boards of “volunteers” called supervisors. Some other states adopted the Pennsylvania model of government, made up of smaller boards with part-time or full-time paid commissioners.

The “New York” model of county government is known for large boards of citizen “volunteers” and for its transparency and openness due to the committee structure. In order to have a committee structure, supervisors are needed to participate on those committees. Larger-sized county boards resulted.

Before 1965, the size of the county board was determined by the number of municipalities within the county. Each town chair, a representative from every village and a person from each aldermanic district were on the county board, causing some counties to have 70 to 80 members.

Differences between role of Counties in Wisconsin and in the Nation

- Average size boards: The average size of county boards in Wisconsin is 25 members, while the national average of county boards is 5.
- Services provided by counties in WI

Another explanation for the differences between average sizes of county boards is the duties and responsibilities of those counties. The State of Wisconsin places more requirements on county governments in the area of human services than any other state. According to the National Association of Counties, there are only 13 states that require counties to provide human services, and Wisconsin is one of them. Of those 13 states, counties in Wisconsin provide the most human services on behalf of the state. In addition to human services, county governments are also required to provide law enforcement, funding for courts, road repair and maintenance, environmental programs and numerous other programs.

Branches and organization of County Government

- Prior to 1960, Wisconsin county boards functioned as both the legislative and the executive branches. However, as county government became more complex and the population became more urbanized, the Wisconsin Statutes were amended to permit the creation of a separate, elected position of county executive to administer and monitor county departments and exercise other specified powers.
- In 1985, the legislature created the position of appointed county administrator. The administrator is responsible for the annual budget, providing oversight to county department heads, and reporting to the county board.
- Wisconsin currently has ten elected county executives and ten appointed administrators.
- This legislation also required all counties that do not choose to create either an administrator or an executive office, to designate an administrative coordinator. The administrative coordinator is “responsible for coordinating all administrative and management functions of the county government not otherwise vested by law in boards or commissions, or in elected officers.” Fifty-two counties have adopted this form of administrative option.

Changes to the Size of County Boards in Wisconsin

- Wisconsin Act 100 was signed into law in January 2006.
- Act 100 Created two mechanisms for changing county board size (not applicable to Milwaukee or Menominee Counties):
 - County board can pass a resolution (simple majority vote by the board)
 - “Citizen Initiative” process
This mechanism is a petition and referendum process. A petition can be circulated to obtain signatures that equal 25 percent of the countywide vote for county supervisor. After the petition is certified with enough signatures, a referendum question is placed on the next general election ballot. Unlike the advisory referendum questions counties can place on a ballot, these referendum questions are binding. If a new number is selected by the voters, the county must redistrict using the last census numbers.
- Act 100 Requires redistricting when a new size is selected.
- Act 100 stipulates that re-sizing can only happen one time between each census.

Pro and Con on Smaller Boards

- “Smaller boards cost less”
 - Per a 2003 WISTAX Report, “the nearer the county board is to its legal maximum the lower county spending is relative to similar-sized counties.” This report also states, “If a county increased its board size by one, its spending per capita would be expected to fall approximately $8 to $10.”
 - As a result, the county’s bond rating may be negatively impacted, which makes bonding more expensive
 - Small boards may create a need for full-time supervisors, which may increase rather than decrease spending on salaries and benefits
 - Staff may be needed in extreme cases

- “Smaller boards create more competition for board seats”
 - Again, small boards would increase the time commitment ~~would increase~~ for supervisors. As a result, candidates may be harder to find
 - In 2006 in Pepin, Florence and Bayfield Counties, a total of 37 seats had only 1 contested race among them.
 - In 2006 in Sheboygan County, 34 seats had only 11 contested races

- “Smaller boards mean better representation”
 - Fewer seats mean a loss of diversity, experience and backgrounds
 - Fewer people can participate as supervisors
 - Rural representation will decline as districts get bigger: fewer rural seats

- “Smaller boards make it easier to hold officials accountable”
 - How do we hold our elected officials accountable?
 - Constituent/supervisor ratio will increase, representation per constituent will decrease
 - Full time supervisors could be harder to reach outside business hours, since they would want to be at work during usual business hours – when non-government-employed people tend to be at work themselves. Thus, it could be said that possibility exists of special interest groups getting more involved, leaving less role for “ordinary people” to lobby the board
 - Some would argue that accountability is also a role of the county executive, or the county administrator

- “It’ll be easy”

The mechanism (ordinance or referendum) is the easy part. Redistricting can be difficult. Careless execution of redistricting may violate the 14th amendment of the US Constitution.

 - Can’t change ward lines or split wards; must use whole wards or municipalities
 - Districts must be substantially equal in population

- Quorums for committees: implications for violating open meetings laws

CERTIFICATION FOR BALLOT PLACEMENT

Pursuant to Wisconsin State Statutes 59.10(3)(cm)(2), "Except as provided in subd. 2., the electors of a county may, by petition and referendum, decrease the number of supervisors at any time after the first election is held following enactment of a decennial supervisory district plan under para. (b)...." "The county clerk shall promptly determine the sufficiency of a petition filed under this subdivision. Upon determination that a petition is sufficient, or if any or more valid alternative petitions are filed, upon determination that the petitions are sufficient, the county clerk shall call a referendum concurrently with the next spring or general election in the county that is held not earlier than 42 days after the determination is made. ..."

I, Cindy Campbell, St. Croix County Clerk, certify a petition to reduce the number of supervisors in St. Croix County government from thirty-one (31) to nineteen (19) was filed in my office on August 27, 2008. On September 9, 2008, I determined the number of signatures received was 2006, which is a sufficient number of signatures needed for ballot placement. I further certify the following question will be placed on the November 4, 2008 ballot:

"Shall the board of supervisors of St. Croix County be decreased from 31 members to 19 members?"

County Board Sizes, April 2006

The color number in each county shows how many seats are on the county board. The color legend is provided in large color Wisconsin map. The information on local and county population in the table refers to the 2000 census. The numbers in the map's Administrative and Statistics column, The Wisconsin County Board is set apart in a box link. The Wisconsin County Board is composed of the state statutes as the Wisconsin Statewide County Board (Wisconsin Statutes).

A board member's constituency is the difference, if any, between the number of seats on the county board and the number of seats on the county board.

CURRENT COMMITTEE STRUCTURE

Emphasis on Cross-Dept. Work Groups

Executive Committee?

- Pros:
 - Ensures representation from each committee (assuming members are committee chairs), and the two selected Chair and Vice Chair of the Board?
 - Can coordinate cross-committee and cross-departmental issues, such as budget and personnel
 - Creates committee aware of each other committees' issues
- Cons:
 - Concerns a "superior" committee that may negate another committee's actions
 - Need to avoid duplicate committee chairs
 - No history in County, would need clear by-laws for responsibilities

St. Croix Reorganization Issues to Address

- Improve communication and information within the board, with more understanding of issues and ability to set direction for the organization.
- Ensure adequate and equitable representation of the geographic areas of the County.
- Reorganize close working and reporting relationships with departments.
- Increase the Board's ability to address organization-wide issues relative to its ability to address departmental issues.
- Improve administrative support for committees and the Board and their meetings.

Executive Committee and/or Committee of the Whole

- Executive committee and Committee of the whole are not incompatible
- Pros of Committee of the Whole:
 - When Board acts as body on cross-committee or cross-department issues
 - All supervisors included
 - Special allow for "business meeting" and "work session" meetings each month
 - Formally tied to some current Board meetings
- Cons of Committee of the Whole:
 - Costs more, 28 per diem instead of 16 per diem in Executive Committee
 - Meeting/issue management would need to be determined, could be cumbersome
 - Meeting agendas

Action Options to Address

1. Rearrange the Board meeting room to create face to face seating so Board members can talk with each other rather than at the Chair.
2. Develop leadership amongst the board through an executive committee made up of committee chairs, the Board chair and Board vice chair.
3. Get issues to the Board more fully vetted by committees, particularly budget development and investing.
4. Streamline committees into five basic function areas, but maintain the committee membership to seven, to ensure wide participation by Board members and better geographical representation on committees. Most Board members would be able to serve on two committees under this structure, and thereby become more familiar with issues and departments within the County.

5. Where and when needed or appropriate, a work group committee of three supervisors from a committee could be formed to address particular issues or functions, much like the ad hoc negotiating committee has done. Committees such as the ADRC would continue under this approach working supervisors with current responsibilities.
6. Responsibilities of the Executive Committee would be foremost the budget, but also other issues that need resolution between committees on behalf of the Board. Aside from the budget responsibilities, it would be similar to the current Administration Committee.
7. In addition to an Executive Committee, five committees covering the basic function responsibilities of County government would be the Transportation Committee, the Health and Human Services Committee, the Public Protection Committee, the Administration Services Committee and the Community Development Committee.

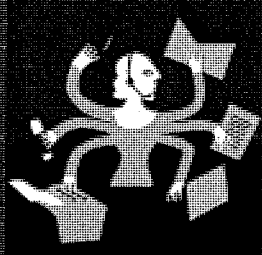

1. Establishing a regular schedule of these six committees on a monthly basis in a way that avoids overlapping meetings and provides for enough time to have issues move from one committee to another committee when needed within the month would more properly address issues. This would mean scheduling committee meetings at least two days apart in order to allow agendas to be modified. The schedule would collaborate with the Executive Committee and then the full County Board.

2. Staff expenditures should be adjusted to provide meeting information to committee members in sufficient advance of their committee meeting so as to allow committee members adequate time to study and prepare for the meeting discussion and decisions. This should also assist in keeping meetings moving along so supervisors can spend their time wisely. Their meeting work group committees can also be used to prepare for issues coming to the regular full committee meeting.

Reorganization Options in Reference to January 7 Memo

- Executive Committee versus Committees of the Whole with bi-monthly meetings
- Second Board meeting - first business day of the month or first Monday
- 5 committee members versus 7
- Would 2 of 5, or 3 of 7 meeting require meeting notices?
- Some versus none of subcommittees selection of committee members by chair appointment, election or combination
- Veterans Under Admin or HRIS
- Counts Under Admin or Public Protection
- Reconfigure board meeting room or eliminate the back row
- Set meeting schedule or not, other than Board meeting?

- Committee Size: 5 committee members versus 7
- Pros of 5 member committees:
 - Traditional County committee size, familiarity with meeting dynamics
 - Cost less in per diems than 7
 - Lets supervisors specialize more by being on fewer committees
 - Cons of 5 member committees:
 - Doesn't allow for "cross-pollination" of committee membership, can reinforce silo interests
 - Potential for geographic misrepresentation
 - Less general supervisor involvement if committees are reduced in number

- Committee Size: 7 committee members vs. 5
- Pros of 7 member committees:
 - More supervisors familiar with more than one committee, bigger picture - outlook
 - More likely to provide geographical representation on each committee
 - Lets members break out into smaller sub-committee work groups
 - Cons of 7 member committees:
 - Cost more in per diems
 - Could require more structure or formality in issue deliberation
 - Risk of too much supervisor involvement could develop meeting fatigue

- Board Room Configuration Options
- Remove back row, leaves 19 seats, supervisors face the Chair - minimal change and cost
 - Reconfigure seats for supervisors to face each other - would require redesigning space, supervisor seating and desk arrangement. Could allow redoing back of Board room for more and flexible meeting space.
 - Consider media and presentation enhancements

Additional Items to Consider

- ▶ Synchronizing committee meetings and board meeting
- ▶ Develop a timeline for board approval of reorganization

Outline

- ▶ The Changing Size of County Boards and Committees
 - Board Size and Committee Structure
- ▶ St. Croix County
 - Current Structure
 - Future Structure
- ▶ Discussion of Major Issues

The Changing Size of County Boards

- ▶ Douglas County...30 to 28 (to ease the redistricting process)
- ▶ Dane County...39 to 37
- ▶ Waukesha County...35 to 25.
- ▶ Wood County... 38 to 19
- ▶ Price County...21 to 13. (Price County referendum to go from 21 to 7 members failed in April 2006)
- ▶ Kenosha County...27 to 28

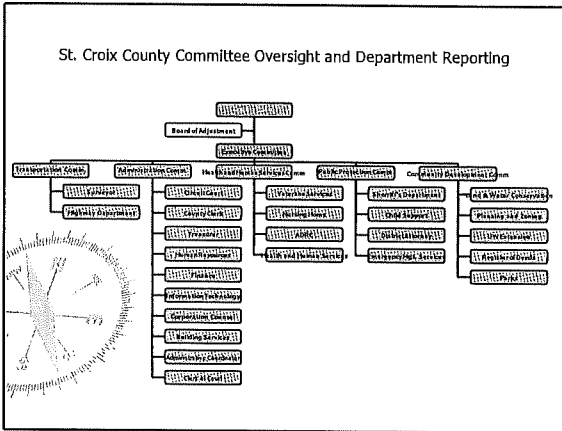

Goals for Today

- ▶ Broader participation by board members and increased understanding of organizational issues (what changes will occur as a result of the new structure?)
- ▶ Provide additional input for Administration Committee.
- ▶ Discuss future committee structure
- ▶ Assure that geographical representation of county is maintained on committees.
- ▶ Establish a timeline for approval

Brief Overview of County Committee Structure

- ▶ State statute mandate the existence of certain committees including:
 - Ag and Extension
 - Board of Health
 - Commission on Aging
 - Human Services
 - Emergency Management
 - Highway
 - Land Conservation
 - Local Emergency Planning
 - Traffic Safety
 - Veterans Services

Executive Committee and/or Committee of the Whole

- ▶ Executive committee and Committee of the whole are not incompatible
- ▶ Pros of Committee of the Whole:
 - Whole Board acts as body on cross-committee or cross-department issues
 - All supervisors included
 - Would allow for "business meeting" and "work session" meetings each month
- ▶ Cons of Committee of the whole:
 - Costs more, 19 per diems instead of number on Executive Committee
 - Meetings issues management would need to be determined, could be cumbersome
 - Meeting fatigue

Familiar feel to some current Board meetings

Executive Committee?

- ▶ Pros:
 - Ensures representation from each committee (assuming members are committee chairs), and the two selected Chair and Vice Chair of the Board
 - Can coordinate cross-committee and cross-departmental issues such as budget and personnel
 - Creates committee aware of each other committees' issues
- ▶ Cons:
 - Concern a "superior" committee that may negate another committee's actions
 - Need to avoid duplicate committee chairs
 - No history in County, would need clear by-laws for responsibilities

Current and Potential Committee Assignments

The graphic shows a stylized figure with multiple arms holding various symbols, representing the diverse and sometimes conflicting responsibilities of supervisors in managing multiple committee assignments.

St. Croix Reorganization Issues to Address

- ▶ Improve communication and information within the Board, with more understanding of issues and ability to set direction for the organization.
- ▶ Ensure adequate and equitable representation of the geographic areas of the County.
- ▶ Maintain close working and reporting relationships with departments.
- ▶ Improve the Board's ability to address organization-wide issues relative to its ability to address departmental issues.
- ▶ Improve administrative support for committees and the Board and their meetings.

Options for Populating Committees

- A. Newly elected board elects chair for each functional committee
 - Board Chair, Vice Chair and 5 committee Chairs work as a group to appoint members to each committee.
- B. County Board Chair would appoint County Board Supervisors to each functional committees.
 - The committee would then elect their Chair.
- C. Newly elected board elects Supervisors to serve on each committee and elects the chair.
- D. County Board Chair appoints Supervisors to each committee and appoints the Chair to each committee.
- E. The County Board Chair would appoint three Functional Committee Chairs and the County Board would elect the other three Functional Committee Chairs
The County Board Chair would then appoint the remainder of the County Board Supervisors to the Functional Committees
